DIGI-UNITY

Building Digital Resilience and Intercultural Understanding among Youth

In an increasingly digital and interconnected world, young people face new challenges related to digital inclusion, intercultural communication, and active participation in society. DIGI-UNITY is an Erasmus+ project designed to empower youth workers and young people by strengthening essential digital, social, and civic competences.

The project promotes digital literacy, intercultural dialogue, social inclusion, and active citizenship, supporting young people, especially those with fewer opportunities—to become more resilient, informed, and engaged members of their communities.
